

firemen were greatly handicapped in their work. The institution fire brigade, under Chief John Burke, is credited with having saved several men from the burning building.

Six bedridden patients were carried out of the "death house."

Police Prevent Escapes.

Seventy-five patients who were trying to escape were driven back into line by police who arrived in special squads from several stations, nurses, and firemen.

The old building became a flaming pyre apparently within a few minutes after the blaze was discovered. As the police, the guards, the nurses and doctors were joined by firemen in guarding the patients huddled in a group on the side lines, many shouts and cries rang out.

Many of the epileptic patients, who are sound mentally when not suffering from the disease, attempted to rush back to save comrades they thought were still in the burning building.

There was much noise and outcry on the outside that this, together with the cries of the patients trapped within, for no one heard despairing calls from the flames.

"There was a high wind," said Dr. Daniel D. Coffey, superintendent of the institution. "The flames which got to the scene roared so loudly that it would have been impossible to hear any one inside. We thought for a long period after the firemen were working that we had got every one out safely."

One Fortunate Factor.

One thing stands out in the grim tragedy as fortunate. This was the fact that practically all the patients in the old story wing of the old pavilion which was burned to the ground were in the dining hall, which jutted out from the wing. Thus most of them were together and easy of control, and so were hurried from the building.

Also, it was fortunate that one patient, Herman Hacker, an epileptic, left the dining room before the others. Hacker, having finished his dinner early, left the dining hall to go to his cot in Ward 5, where he kept a gray innards.

Immediate Given Alarm.

As he rose from his knees he saw a sudden burst of flame from a clothes closet in the ward, and he at once ran through the building, shouting: "Fire! Fire! Fire!"

Mrs. Alma Hansen, Mrs. Hannah Saunders, and Miss Margaret Gunn were three of the women attendants on duty in the pavilion when the alarm was sounded. None of them, however, could give a clear version of what happened. They labored, they said, under great stress to get their charges to safety and their impressions were feeling and vague.

Miss Hansen was with Mrs. Saunders in the rear of the long wing of the old building, where the fire started and the scene of the roaring flames.

Lead Through Flaming.

"I only know," said Mrs. Hansen, "that I heard cries of fire. I thought my heart would stop. I opened the door leading from the dining room into the dormitory. Flames were shooting up all around. I had to lead my patients alone through them to get them out of the building."

"Smoke and flames said a rushing and pushing of patients to get them out—that is all I remember until I was standing outside with the flames mounting in the air," said Mrs. Hansen. "I thought we had got them all safely out."

How Start of Blast.

"I had gone off to bed," said Mrs. Martha Fuller, "but I saw the fire starting before the alarm was given as I happened to look out of the window at the nurses' home. It is several blocks from the home to the building that burned. I ran it and got there

TRAGEDY IN DEATHS OF THE CARRAKERS, FATHER, MOTHER, SON

The deaths of Elijah Carraker and his wife and son Lowell were a tragic feature of the Dunning fire. The father and mother were attendants in ward 5. They lived on the second floor of the front section of the flimsy wooden structure. When the fire was discovered Carraker and his wife, seated beside patients and guided them out of the building. Lowell remained behind, hysterical with fright. His parents returned for him.

"I ran to their rooms to make certain they were ready to save themselves," said Mrs. Marshall Ruby, an attendant and the wife of an attendant. "Mrs. Carraker was trying to quiet the boy and at the same time was helping her husband to pack their personal belongings."

"The hall and the room was filled with smoke. The heat was growing intense and the stairway was in flames. 'Drop everything and run,' I shouted to them. 'This is your last chance to get out.'"

"I supposed they were coming after me, but they were on the stairs and I saw them go down."

But it appears for some reason the Carrakers lingered in their rooms. An hour afterwards his mother, father, and son were missing. An older son, Chester, rushed to the asylum and sought in vain for a trace of them. Their bodies, burned almost beyond recognition, were found amid the ruins.

quickly, but it was a mass of flames before I reached it."

Miss Gunn was in the front or eastern part of the building, which was saved, she said. This was a two-story section and has two of the six wards in the building in it.

"I heard the cries of fire," Miss Gunn said, "and I smelled smoke coming from the rear of the building. I then hurried to get my patients out."

Apparently it was the cry of Hacker, the epileptic, that roused the nurses to action and brought about the general alarm, although John Blotz, owner of the Dunning garage in Irving Park boulevard and Oak Park avenue, who was passing. The fifty escaped inmates are being sought by the police and until they are captured the authorities will have difficulty in learning the names of these killed because identification can be made only through a process of elimination.

Late in the night and early this morning the state road where twenty-five of the state road were killed because of the unusual overcrowding of the institution forced their own constant use since they were built several years ago. ## LUCID PATIENTS HEROES OF FATAL FIRE AT ASYLUM

To the valor of Dr. R. S. Mintek, a score of attendants—three of them women nurses—and some seventy-five epileptic patients, Dr. D. D. Coffey, superintendent of Dunning, said last night must be laid the fact that the loss of life in the fire was not much greater.

Some of the inmates, wild in confusion, dashed toward the trap of flames, and it was only by herding that they were got out. Many had to be carried out, some struggling, kicking, biting, and scratching and shouting.

Dr. Mintek, in charge of the burning pavilion, his attendants, and the epileptics—who are lucid except when suffering a seizure—fought the patients and dragged them through the flames.

"The epileptics," said Dr. Coffey, "were splendid under the most trying conditions. They should be given great credit. Long after it was impossible to reenter the burning building and come out alive, some of them wanted to go back after comrades they feared were inside."

and it was reported in several instances they captured inmates of the hospital who had escaped the guards. Three men in hospital clothing are said to have been seen running down a street in the rear of the institution.

STATE OFFICIALS TALK

Some statements from the authorities over state insane wards regarding questions of responsibility included these:

By Judge C. H. Jenkins, president state board of public welfare—I have had only meager reports of what caused the fire and the responsibility, if any, for the conditions which led to the fatalities. As I understand it, the buildings in which the deaths occurred were not originally intended to be permanent housing for patients, but that the unusual overcrowding of the institution forced their own constant use since they were built several years ago. I am leaving Springfield at midnight tonight to reach Chicago in the morning, and will take active charge of the investigation when I arrive.

BOY, HUNTING SANTA, IS LOST; SUCCEEDS, HOME

Four year old Walter Gudy celebrated Christmas more than twenty-four hours late this year.

Last Saturday, while playing near his home at 2514 Thomas street, Walter disappeared. His parents and the police looked for him in vain. Christmas came, and the boy's presents lay untouched on the table.

Meanwhile Walter was roaming the streets of Chicago, looking for Santa Claus. To persons who found him, following publication of his picture in yesterday's Tribune, he tearfully admitted that he had been unable to locate the Christmas saint. He was taken home—and there, in the midst of an overjoyed family, he found him.

Guyon announced yesterday that as a reward for their cooperation he will deed over to each of them a thirty apartment building which will cost $150,000. Ground is already being broken for the first five of the structures. Each building is expected to provide an annual income of $17,000.

The deeds will be given to the ten employees after three years, during which time they will be instructed by Guyon, who is himself the owner of many buildings. The only stipulation attached to the gift is that the proprietors shall not profit on rents.

ADMINISTRATION HOPE OF BEATING BONUS INCREASES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—Administration hopes of defeating the soldier bonus and thereby, in administration opinion, of making tax reductions possible are increasing.

Senator Smoot (Utah), chairman of the senate finance committee, which will deal with both bonus and tax bills conferred with President Coolidge today. The senator's plan is to wage warfare on the bonus before considering tax cuts.

Mr. Smoot favors early reporting of the bonus bill to the senate floor and quick disposal of it. It is certain it will pass by an ample majority. There is no question in the minds of senators that the President will veto it. Senator Smoot would then have the senate vote on the veto message immediately. He believes it is possible to kill the bonus bill at this point, although he admits the bonus has a slight majority at this time.

"At this moment," Mr. Smoot said today, "the bonus would pass over the veto with two votes to spare."

THOMPSON FAILS TO MAKE DENT IN SHRINER SLATE

As far as outward appearances were concerned, the annual election of Medinah to the local organization of the Mystic Shrine, last night, had never been so close.

"Bill" Thompson, or his alleged agent, "got" the entire line of votes and elect a new slate. Quite a number of the brethren, who have stuck to the Thompson-Landis slate, were present, but, apparently, not for as a matter of fact, the vote of the late mayor was going to "go" in easily.

SLASH PERSONAL TAX VALUATIONS $154,849,834

Review Board Goes Under Own 1922 Figures.

Personal property values over the whole of Chicago as fixed by the board of assessors last spring were slashed $154,849,834 by the board of review, it was revealed yesterday when final personal figures were obtained.

When the assessors completed their work this year they had placed a total valuation on Chicago taxpayers' personal property of $891,498,044. The board of review, after hearing thousands of complaints, have cut that figure to $736,648,210, a decrease of $154,849,834, or 17.4 per cent.

Hold Afloat to Dever.
The large cut was regarded by some as an affront to the Dever administration, which has made efforts to boost valuations where they claimed gross undervaluations had been made by assessors.

Complaints Against Wealthy.
Most of the complaints filed by the city were directed against millionaire individuals, banks, large businesses, and estates.

1922 Figures Compared.
The assessors' final review figures for 1922 personal property valuations in city districts are as follows:

LIVING ONE-FIFTH CHEAPER THAN IN 1920, PEAK YEAR
Costs 70 Per Cent More than in 1913.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—[The cost of living was one-fifth less in September this year than it was in June, 1920, when the highest point in living costs since 1913 was reached. A decrease of 20.5 per cent in the total cost of living in the United States, as determined by a consolidation of the figures for thirty-two specified cities, is shown in an announcement issued today by the bureau of labor statistics.

Much Higher Than 1913.
The cost of living, however, was almost three-quarters more than the 1913 average, September costs showing a 72.1 per cent increase over the pre-war average. In September a year ago costs were 62.3 per cent above the 1913 average, and at their lowest point since December, 1917, but December last year showed an increase. There was a slight decrease according to March, 1923, figures, but since that time living costs have been rising slightly.

INCREASE BY ITEMS.
The September cost of living expenditures as compared with the 1913 average show the following increases by items:

Police admitted they did not have sufficient evidence to convict on a blackmail charge. Neither Mr. Drake nor federal postal inspectors appeared to prosecute.

THREE NATIONS HUNT 50 MEN FROM AIRSHIP

Survivors Believed Near Death.

PARIS, Dec. 25.—[United News.]—On the desert, on the sea and in the sky the French army, navy and air force is frantically searching for missing dirigible Dismade.

Along are old caravan trails of the desert camel riders are swishing through the Sahara, spreading the word to isolated native tribes. The French ministry of marine has issued a communique giving the names of the fifty men aboard. This is taken as virtually an admission that hope of saving the craft has been abandoned.

Fifty Men Lost.
The communique states that the fifty air stranded men include fourteen officers and nine passengers, all having the rank of captain, who went as observers on the ill-fated voyage.

It is barely possible that the huge airship is still afloat. If it keeps the sky until tomorrow morning it will have remained aloft nine days. But those who seek the ship believe that they will find a wreck, either a tangled jumble of silk covering and aluminum girders floating on ocean waves, or a crushed skeleton banked with drift sand of the desert.

Officers old in the ways of Africa fear that, should the crippled airship descend in the interior, the crew would face a battle with natives. Provision had been made for such a contingency. The Dismade carried six carbines, a machine gun, and 1,000 cartridges. If a desert attack was made the Frenchmen could fight their way through to a frontier port. It is believed.

Can Live Three Weeks.
"We expect nothing except bad news of the Dismade now," an attaché of the ministry of marine said today. "Our only hope is that the crew has reached the ground somewhere in the Sahara. We have figured out that they might subsist for three weeks on their reserve rations, if they were able to land them."

Three Nations Seek Airship.
The Dismade is somewhere between the African Atlas mountains and the northern coasts of the Mediterranean. Three nations are searching for it—France on deserts and sea, England from the white forts of Malta, and Italy on the deserts of Italian Libya and the shores of Sicily.

WIFE OF RELIEF WORKER DENIED U. S. VISE AT RIGA

Beauty in distress appealed yesterday from Riga, Latvia, for the rights presumed to be inherent in an American citizen. She is Mrs. David Metland, an educated, cultured Russian woman of 35, the wife of a resident of Detroit, Mich., who since his army service has been a member of the American relief expedition in Russia. All that Mrs. Metland asks is that she and their child be allowed to accompany her husband to his native country.

Her cousin, Theodore Weinschank, a mechanical engineer who lives at 2241 North Delaware street, Indianapolis, Ind., yesterday asked the Tribune to aid, and explained Mrs. Metland's predicament. The American consul at Riga has refused her an American visa, she wrote him, because of an alleged law that does not accord American citizenship to a Russian woman who marries an American.

Couple Married Three Years. Back of the present plight of the Metland family there is a tale of the present Russian horrors contained in the letter written by Mr. Weinschank. The most recent was the confiscation of all their property and money by the soviet government except $500 which they were to keep, according to the letter.

Mrs. Metland, whose maiden name was Maika Epin, and who has two sisters in Chicago, Mrs. A. Guroy, 2114 North Spaulding avenue, and Mrs. Mona Kaskin, 2249 North Albany avenue, wrote her uncle of many of the terrors of the last five years.

Organized a Stock Company. When the relief work ended Metland organized a stock company, the purpose of which was to reconstruct the cities devastated by the bolsheviks. The business was progressing nicely and all was well until a month or so ago, when suddenly the government issued an edict commanding them to leave Russia within two weeks. Business, home, furniture, everything was seized by the government—no known reason and without explanation.

Attorney Maurice Weinschank of Chicago, a cousin of the woman, said he would ask United States Senator Medill McCormick to help her.

SAYS SCIENCE IS NOT IN CONFLICT WITH RELIGION

Noted Geologist Talks of Church Strife.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 26.—(Special.)—There is no conflict between religion and science, according to Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington and president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which will begin its seventy-fifth annual meeting here tomorrow.

As a leading geologist, Dr. Walcott was interviewed on the controversy between the modernists and fundamentalists. "Religion and science are not in conflict," he said. "They are both seeking after truth, but in different fields. Science is trying to discover the truth about the physical phenomena of life, of nature, while religion is interested in the spiritual development of man. We have had these furious controversies between the theologians and the advocates of evolution since the days when they threatened to execute Galileo, and they will always go on."

Scientists Good Church Members. Dr. Walcott pointed out that it was not necessary for a churchman to be a theologian any more than it was for a scientist to be an atheist. He said that he was a churchman himself, but not a theologian. He is an active worker in the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant in Washington.

It would be surprising if you knew the number of scientific men who are connected with church activities," Dr. Walcott went on. "A great many scientists are deeply religious. Many of the scientific men at the Smithsonian Institution attend church regularly."

Despite claims of some fundamentalists in the churches that the evolutionary theory was being abandoned, Dr. Walcott said that scientists were

THIRTY CENTS A DAY WILL BRING YOU $1,000

BY saving only thirty cents a day you will receive at the end of ten years over $1,000, and in the meantime your life will be insured for $1,000 under our Savings and Life Insurance Plan.

Suppose you are 30 years old. You open a Savings and Life Insurance account with a deposit of $8.70, which represents saving less than thirty cents a day for one month. You deposit $8.70 each month for 120 months, when you will receive over $1,000 in cash. If you do not live to complete your deposits, the insurance company agrees to pay your beneficiary $1,000 and the Bank will pay the balance in the savings account. At the end of the eighth year, for example, the total amount received by your beneficiary in case of death would be over $1,690.

Should you be totally and permanently disabled, the insurance company agrees to pay you $10.00 a month for the rest of your life; you would not have to make any more deposits, and when you die your heirs would receive the full face amount of your policy just the same. The rates vary according to your age, and you may save any amount from $1,000 to $25,000 by depositing a proportionately larger amount monthly.

NEVER TO VETO PROPOSED TRACK RAISING BUREAU

Sprague Already Doing
Most of Its Work.

RAILROAD TRACK DEATHS IN COOK COUNTY.

Year	At Grade	Not At Grade	Total
1922	54	57	111
1921	57	60	117
1920	60	63	123
1919	70	66	136

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Mayor Dever is expected to submit a veto to the city council today of an ordinance which he presented to the council and was passed without reference to a committee for deliberation and discussion.

It provides for the creation of a track elevation bureau, with a superintendent, engineer, and such inspectors and other employees as the city council may provide. This bureau, under the ordinance, is to be a part of the department of public works.

Opposed to Plan.
The commissioner of that department, Col. A. A. Sprague, deems the bureau unnecessary, and recommended to Mayor Dever that the ordinance creating it be vetoed. Further than that he declined to talk on the subject. From other sources, however, it was learned that the commissioner does not desire the creation of more jobs without good reason therefor.

It is rumored that this is substantially the attitude of the commissioner. It is not so important to save the political lives of precinct captains as it is to save the human lives of persons who may be crossing railroad tracks at grade.

It is evident that Commissioner Sprague did not suggest the ordinance to the mayor. The record does not show definitely who urged the mayor to tell the city council to create the bureau and the jobs. Perhaps the same will come to the surface in the council debate this afternoon over the prospective veto of the mayor.

Col. Sprague said yesterday he had conferred with the representatives of all but three of the major railroads obligated by ordinances to raise tracks. From each he obtained a statement of the amount of work they proposed to do next year.

"Crowding Deaths" Increased.
Between 1922 and this year the grade crossing deaths in the county have jumped from fifty-four to seventy-two, an increase of 28 per cent. This percentage increase probably is as high as in any other group of accidental deaths.

The All-Chicago council, representing more than 100 improvement and neighborhood clubs, has petitioned the mayor to eliminate the grade crossings, but said nothing in their petition about creating a bureau and some more jobs. The council asked that the ordinance providing for track elevation passed April 8, 1911, April 23, 1913, and Dec. 29, 1915, be carried out in good faith.

"The railroads concerned," reads the petition, "have wholly ignored such ordinances and have seen fit to evade compliance therewith for a period of nearly twelve years."

Another part says that "Mayor Dever is requested to give special and immediate attention to the following grade crossings within the city of Chicago, all of which are a constant menace to the lives of citizens, seriously impede street traffic, and retard the normal growth of the communities in which they exist."

Then follows a list of ten grade crossings, involving six different railroads that agreed to elevate those tracks.

Cites Coroner's Figures.
"The coroner's statistics," said Mayor Dever yesterday, "show that there have been 245 fatalities at grade crossings in the last ten years. It is true that the railroads have so completely ignored the existing ordinances that no substantial progress in track elevation has been made during the last ten or twelve years."

"There may have been some excuse during the war for the lack of activity on the part of the railroads, but there is no reason now why they should not immediately proceed to carry out their ordinance obligations." Commissioner Sprague also believes that the time for action has arrived. Within a week or ten days he probably will make public exactly what each railroad in Chicago has agreed to do in the way of elevating its tracks next year. He may even go further, because he is working on a more elaborate program. He is attempting to get the railroads to agree upon a program of construction for 1924, 1925 and 1926.

The Chicago and Northwestern railroads are one of those that has agreed to such a program and named the amount it will expend in each of the three years, as well as the points at which it will be expended.

There are some features concerning

"All Good Things of

There is a part of a letter received by The Tribune on December 7 from W. J. Davis, General Agent of the Chicago & Alton Railway:

"I take pleasure in advising you that the work for which I referred yesterday in your 'Lost and Found' column was recovered yesterday afternoon. Sure the work of the West Ad. All the good things of life are not exhausted."

track elevation which it is understood two or three railroads do not desire sent broadcast. One of those roads is said to be asking a favor of the city at present and at the same time has not started to eliminate several grade crossings about which there has been much complaint.

Another railroad is said to have asserted that it would not elevate a certain portion of its tracks regardless of city hall action.

A fight on the floor of the city council may disclose the details of this rumored information as well as other interesting bits.

PRINCE GIVES UP RIGHT TO CROWN TO WED CANADIAN

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 26.—It is officially announced that Prince Erik of Denmark on the occasion of his betrothal to Miss Lois Frances Booth of Ottawa renounced his right to succession to the throne and his title of prince. King Christian, however, conferred on him the title of Count of Rethenborg.

PARDON LIKELY FOR GROSSMAN IF HE'S IN JAIL

But Saloon Man Has Not Gone to Cell.

Neither presidential pardon nor Philip Grossman reached the House of Correction yesterday.

Word had been received that President Coolidge had commuted the year sentence given the saloonkeeper, by former Judge Landis. It was expected that Grossman would be knocking at the door, seeking admittance yesterday, so the pardon would become operative.

But, as Richey V. Graham, superintendent of the institution, expressed it, "we can't liberate a prisoner who isn't a prisoner."

Daughter Confirms Pardon.

United States Marshall Robert Levy's comment was similar: "I have the commitment papers for him, also a telegram from Attorney General Daugherty, announcing the pardon. If I get him I must take him to the bridge; then they can release him."

Grossman, however, neither was seen nor heard. His attorney, Louis J. Behan, and his friend, Homer K. Galpin, Republican county chairman, said he was expected in any minute from Hot Springs, Ark.

Grossman has been there for his health. Galpin, incidentally, denied rumors to the effect that Grossman had paid a large sum to escape jail, and Attorney Behan said the trial and appeal expenses were large, but that no other money was expended.

Attaches of the department of justice admitted there had been somewhat of a slip up in the President's Christmas present to Grossman, but they were not specific. An "inadvertent act of a department of justice employee" was mentioned.

This caused the so far unanswered question as to whether the actual presidential warrant freeing Grossman of the sentence has been withheld or whether it would now be operative if received. It was explained that the President's clemency was not a pardon in the strict sense of the word, but was rather a commutation, not, however, annulling the fine of $1,000 also imposed by Judge Landis.

Evidence Under Attack.

It was said at Washington that Senator William B. McKinley requested a pardon and that at the instance of the President the department of justice reviewed the case and recommended clemency. That was supplemented here by Mr. Galpin, who said that a review of the evidence on which Grossman was sentenced indicated that it was untrustworthy.

"There was only one witness against Grossman," Galpin explained. "His name was Ball, and it was later learned that his testimony was not altogether reliable."

C. W. Middlekauff, special assistant to the United States attorney general, was convinced there was justice to Grossman's claims, and asked his recommendation for a pardon.

District Attorney Edwin Olson, who said he was not consulted in the matter of the pardon, said he was undecided as to the present status of Grossman's right to liberty. It would take a few exchanges of telegrams with Washington, he said, to determine that.

"Progress Rides in a Golden Chariot"

YESTERDAY The Hub inaugurated the most remarkable selling event in its history, and the throngs of buyers that besieged the world's greatest clothing store all day long was tremendously gratifying.

It is to be hoped that no one will confuse this sale with the ordinary clearance sale. It is just what its name implies—"A Good, Old-Fashioned Clearance Sale," toward the success of which every department of this great institution is a generous contributor.

The merchandise offered at record-breaking reductions is of the finest, most dependable character, and the purpose back of the sale is a sincere one—a drastic house-cleaning, preparatory to the inauguration of The Hub's new and more progressive business policy of "greater concentration in buying." If, perchance, you were not among the crowds of value-seekers yesterday—come today.

Indeed, "Progress Rides in a Golden Chariot."

GIVE SECRET OF MAKING MOVIE STARS BY MAGIC

"Students" Told "How to Express All Emotions."

L. E. Callahan, president, and W. D. Bauer, vice president, of the Popular Motion Picture Productions, Inc., 744 South Michigan avenue, will be given an opportunity to explain their recent activities in the movie world to the grand jury. That decision was made yesterday by Judge George B. Holmes in the South Clark street police court, after several witnesses had testified that these two men had accepted their word salaries for something that was unusually vague and indefinite.

The Popular Motion Picture Productions, Inc., first transacted business on the west side. It was advertised as a company that "would put you in the movies and make you rich and famous." After moving a time or two the company was visited by the police, and yesterday's court scene ensued.

In Bathing Suit. There came to testify for the state Mrs. Agnes Beck, 7215 Yates avenue. "O, they told me I would have no trouble in the movies," she said. "I was told I would be so happy," she testified. "They taught me to dance in a bathing suit."

John H. Putnam, an automobile mechanic who lives at 1225 Broadway, said he had once possessed a desire to enter the movies. He gave them 25¢ and they let him act in a mob scene.

Judge Holmes held Callahan and Mr. Bauer to the grand jury. Some Instructions. One girl presented a sheet upon which were written these instructions: "EMOTIONS TO BE EXPRESSED." "Wonderment—Well, of all things—how did the eye manage to land him?" "Bored—Thank God that's over." "Aw—He was lying there, dead, and you brought him to life." "Hate—Help you! Why, you poor fool, I wouldn't give you a crumb if you were starving." "Anger—If I ever catch you doing that again I shall beat you within an inch of your life." "Rage—Foolish—Dama you! If I could lay my hands on you I'd tear you limb from limb."

Passion and Contempt. "Passion—My darling, I love you! I love you! I love you!" "Contempt—Why, you dirty swine, wouldn't you sell my hands on you?" "Revenge—You have got the upper hand now, but I'll pay you back in your own coin, if I have to follow you to the ends of the earth."

Revol—If I'm damned if I'll stand for you talk any more to me. "Anguish—I can't—I can't bear it any longer! Oh, what shall I do? What shall I do?"

Dismay—Heaven! He's at the door now—and there's no other way out. "Horror—My God! See how that car smacked him."

Terror—For God's sake, don't let him come near me. He'll kill me! "Indifference—Go where you please and with whom you please."

Remorse—Why—Oh, why did I ever send that letter to him? He'll never forgive me.

Pride—And you ask me, Franklin Brown, to meet that man on terms of equality? I guess you don't know who I am.

Supplication—Please, mister, won't you buy me one of my flowers? I am trying to get enough money to buy medicine for my little brother who is sick.

Stupidity—I don't know what you mean. I don't understand.

Stupidity and Disgrace. "Disgrace—Come, let us go. The things he says are revolting."

Anxiety—I wonder if anything would have happened to him. He never was so late before.

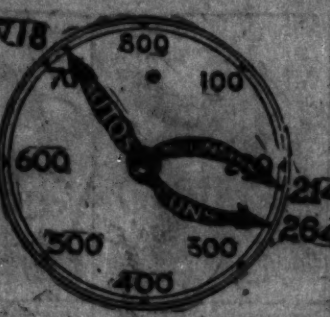

Love with Fear—Oh, my dear, my dear! What shall I do without you? I am afraid you will never come back to me.

Affection—You darling! I think you are about the dearest boy I know.

Happiness—Joy—Oh, I am so happy! Father promised me a trip to Europe when I graduate, and mother promised to buy me a little roadster.

Pleasure—Hello, George. I certainly am glad to see you. Where have you been keeping yourself the past year?" "Mirth—(Laughs) That's a good one! (Laughs) I must remember that (Laughs). "Sympathy—You poor boy. Are you badly hurt? Let me see your arm." "Mercy (with warning)—For your mother's sake I shall spare you now. But if it happens again you shall be punished to the full extent of the law." "Fear—Please—please—don't make me go in there. It was so dark and dismal looking."

Disappointment—Now isn't that too bad! I've been waiting here all afternoon and now I learn that he is not coming down."

Gotham Alcoholic Patients Almost Double in Year. New York, Dec. 26.—(Special.)—The ratio of alcoholic patients to the total patients discharged from department of public welfare hospitals jumped from thirty-eight to sixty-two per 1,000 in 1932, the year cited by prohibitionists as the most satisfactory, according to statistics for the department of public welfare made public by its medical statistician.

Wrigley Sign, Brightest on Broadway, to Come Down. New York, Dec. 26.—(Special.)—With the passing of 1933, the electric sign advertising Wrigley chewing gum from the top of the Putnam block at 44th street and Broadway, measuring 50 by 200 feet and burning 17,265 lights, will go out of existence. The sign cost $100,000 a year rental.

Run Down by Vampire Car. Andrew Noreen, 50 years old, 5748 Dakin street, was injured, perhaps fatally, last night when he was struck while in front of 7177 Irving park boulevard by an automobile, which sped on.

Frank Marcell, a grocer in front of whose store the accident occurred, called the Irving Park police and the injured man was taken to Swedish Covenant hospital. It was said there he had suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. His condition is critical.

Exonerated in Child's Death. Michael Dahlike, 5504 South Sangamon street, was exonerated yesterday by a coroner's jury of all blame in the death of Margaret Box, 9 years old, 7959 Avalon avenue, who died in South Shore hospital on Saturday several hours after she had been struck near her home.

Dahlike told the jury that the child ran in front of his car and that he did not have time to stop. "Speeders' courts were crowded with Christmas revelers accused of drunk driving, speeding, passing boulevard, and failure to stop after accident."

Frank Schumacher, 21, 4934 North

Waller avenue, charged with driving while intoxicated, with inflicting possible fatal injuries on 11-year-old Dorothy Steiner, and with failure to stop after the accident, was discharged by Judge Frank T. Sullivan.

Find Evidence Insignificant. Judge Sullivan said there was insufficient evidence that it was Schumacher's car that was involved in the accident. Schumacher's brother, Frank, who was with him at the time, also was discharged.

The girl, who lives at 2688 Bowdoin avenue, was going to a Christmas Eve entertainment at St. Basil's church. Schumacher was to have been married on Christmas day.

Judge Henry M. Walker, in the other Speeders' court, sentenced Robert F. Long, 5329 Harper avenue, charged with failure to stop after colliding with Judge Adams' automobile. Judge Walker took the case under advisement.

John McDonough, 15, 1421 East 53rd street, another who failed to stop after an accident, was sent to jail for a day and fined $1 and costs.

Laure and Charles Miller, twins, 2008 North Hoyne avenue, are at the Chicago General hospital, severely injured as a result of the crash of a taxi cab into a motorcycle on which they were riding with Peter W. Becker, 26, 2059 North Leavitt street. Becker is said to be dying in Alexian Brothers' hospital. The taxi cab driver, John Gillespie, was charged with assault.

AUTO FATALITIES RAISED TO 718 BY MAN'S DEATH

Driver Freed in Killing of 9 Year Old Girl.

One more death was added yesterday to the county's motor fatalities, which was raised to a total of 718 since Jan. 1. A post-holiday lull was felt after automobile crashes on Christmas day had taken five lives.

Jacob Mink, 57 years old, 1508 North Waller avenue, died in Koxstene hospital last night a short time after he had been struck at Major and North avenues by an automobile driven by Earl Vick, 1705 North Mason avenue. Vick is held by Cook police pending a coroner's inquest today. Vick said that Mink stepped into the path of his car and that he could not stop in time.

HOLD POLICEMAN FOR MURDER IN DEGNAN SLAYING

Labor Leaders Deny Any Part in Killing.

After being confronted by two witnesses at the detective bureau last night, Patrolman John L. Coleman of the West North avenue station was formally booked last night on a charge of having murdered John A. Degnan, teaming contractor, who was found shot to death in his automobile early Monday morning. Coleman, who is under suspension from the police department, will be arraigned this morning in South Clark street court.

Witnesses who confronted him last night in the office of Chief Hughes were Charles Webb and Joseph "Rabbit" Connell, alleged agent for a brewery.

Give Different Version. According to Coleman's version of the killing, he had engaged in a revolver battle with Connell and shot Degnan when the latter began firing at him. He declared Connell and Webb were in one machine and Degnan was in another car at the time of the battle.

Both Connell and Webb told of accompanying Degnan and others to a wake and then going to Devine's saloon on Wells street where they saw Coleman engage in a quarrel with an old man and hit him in the eye. Both regretted the policeman for striking an old man and Degnan, they said, tried to take Coleman's gun away from him. The proprietor ordered them all to leave, they said, and all went to the restaurant on Clark street.

Policeman Is Held. Connell said he went back to the saloon to get his overcoat and then went to the Derby. When he came out of there, he said, he saw Degnan's blood stained car at Clark and Division streets. Degnan's body already had been removed to undertaking rooms.

Webb said he left the True restaurant, got into his car and drove home.

He did not learn of the shooting, he said, until he read it in the morning papers.

After confronting Coleman in Chief Hughes' office, both men were released and the policeman was booked on a murder charge.

FLEETS ROTTING AT DOCKS CAN'T CHASE RUM SHIPS. New York, Dec. 26.—Reinforcement of the coast guard rum blockade with shipping board craft, navy destroyers, eagle boats, or submarine chasers would be impractical and uneconomical, says Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in a letter received today by H. M. Crist, managing editor of the Brooklyn Eagle.

The government contemplates strengthening the coast guard, Mr. Mellon says, "not only for work in connection with the prevention of smuggling, but also for relief and rescue work at sea." He expresses a belief, however, that new and specially designed craft must be built for that purpose.

Although it is generally known, he says, that the navy has a considerable number of idle destroyers, these craft, 300 feet or more in length, 25,000 horse power and 24 knots speed, would cost too much to put in commission and operate as rum chasers, and would be too light for regular coast guard duty.

A STILL FINER SINGLE-SIX

Unchanged in Fundamentals

The improvements which make the new model Packard Single-Six a still finer car are not fundamental changes. Perhaps the most striking improvement in the Single-Six is the adoption of four-wheel brakes—which the Packard Straight-Eight was the first prominent American car to carry.

To insure even greater durability, still longer life, the new model Single-Six is provided with a heavier transmission. It is exceptionally quiet and smooth in operation. Steering has been made even easier than before. The steering wheel has also been enlarged. You will note an improvement in appearance due to the fact that the artillery type wheels are of heavier construction. As in the Straight-Eight, the battery has been enclosed in a theft-proof box and located on the running board, where it is more accessible. You will find in the Single-Six the same brilliancy in every phase of performance; the same brilliant beauty of design and color, which make this Packard, in the opinion of all America, the finest six-cylinder car in the world.

The new Single-Six awaits your inspection. We will gladly send a car to your home or office for a demonstration.

Refinements in Regular Equipment
There are also several important refinements in regular equipment, including—
Gasoline gauge on the instrument board;
The use of adjustable window regulators on the rear windows of Sedans and Sedan-Limousines;
The adoption of an efficient stop-light for all types;
Larger steering wheel;
A more beautiful instrument board, with walnut finish;
Rear vision mirror and windshield cleaner;
An interior tonneau light for all open models;
Toilette cases, smoking sets for enclosed cars.

"TRUST ESTATE" FOR LIVE OWNER CUTS SURTAXES

Offers Way to Guard the Family, Too.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Not only the very rich, who dwell in the rarified upper regions of the surtax, where half the net income goes to the government, but those of lesser fortunes are getting the benefit of diving into lower surtax brackets by the expedient of establishing voluntary trusts, called by some "a living trust" or "a trial will."

A maximum 50 per cent surtax on net income has sent those getting $200,000 a year and more rushing into the field of tax exemptions and trust holdings, but down further in the income groups, where the rates are comparatively low, there is a growing tendency toward advance settlements and the splitting up of smaller estates to cut surtax and inheritance and estate taxes.

How the System Works.

Here is a typical case: A short time ago a man worth $200,000 walked into the trust department of a bank. He was getting an average return of more than 7 per cent on his property. His total net taxable income was $25,000. He was not a millionaire, nor a member of the small group of great incomes, but one of the 40,000 persons in the United States whose incomes are in excess of $25,000 a year.

The surtax rates on $25,000 a year net income do not range above 15 per cent. The income tax paid by this man on his $25,000 was $2,480 normal tax and $7,150 surtax, a total of $9,630. After talking things over, he took one-fifth of his worldly possessions, or $100,000, and placed them in trust. They were $50,000 in bonds and their annual yield was $5,000.

Having segregated $5,000 from his regular income, this man's tax on his $25,000 income was $2,000 normal tax and $1,440 surtax, a total of $3,440. The income tax paid by the trust would be $180 and the trustee's fees would run perhaps $200. Adding and subtracting, we find the net annual saving would be about $750. That would pay the yearly premiums on almost $20,000 of additional life insurance at the age of 35.

This Is Only a Starter.

This, however, is only the starter. The $100,000 placed in trust yields an annual income of $5,000. Take out income taxes of $180 and trustee's fee of $200 and some $4,620 is left as net income.

In this instance it was enough to pay the premiums on $20,000 ordinary life insurance the man was carrying and to purchase additional life insurance of about $100,000. Thus the $100,000 in trust swelled into a reserve fund amounting to $200,000 for the protection of the man's family.

Furthermore, if the trust had been created the taxes on the $50,000 of the holder would be $12,500 federal estate tax and $24,000 state inheritance tax, a total of $36,500.

By separating the $100,000 during life and putting it in trust the taxes on the remaining $150,000, in the event of death, would be $9,500 estate tax and $24,000 inheritance tax, a total of $33,500.

Big Saving on Death Taxes.

Thus the saving in death taxes would amount to $14,000 and plus a saving of $1,000 in administration expense would

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MISS WILSON SET FOR TODAY

Funeral services for Miss Martha Wilson, well known charitable worker, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Fourth Presbyterian church. She died Christmas day in her home at 1450 Dearborn parkway after a ten day fight against pneumonia.

Miss Wilson's chief philanthropic work was for the Children's Memorial hospital. For several years she was president of the institution's auxiliary board, and she founded the White Elephant, a rummage shop at 27 East Ohio street, whose proceeds were given to the hospital. She was also prominently identified in activities in behalf of Smith college, from which she was graduated in 1893.

MRS. JOE TINKER.

Orlando, Fla., Dec. 24.—That Mrs. Joe Tinker, wife of the famous Chicago Cub short stop of former years, killed herself here yesterday while temporarily deranged, was revealed today by members of the family.

It was reported yesterday that she had died suddenly when she was supposed to be recovering from a nervous breakdown. She was 41 years old.

Mrs. Tinker was said to have been suffering from intense nervousness during the last week as a result of a shock sustained when the Tampa special, on which she and her husband were returning from Chicago, was wrecked at Altamonte Springs. She had accompanied Mr. Tinker to Chicago, where he attended the recent baseball meeting.

Members of the family said Mrs. Tinker took an active part with her husband and children in the celebration of yesterday morning around the Christmas tree.

Later, Mr. Tinker and one of his sons left to spend several days at their camp in the woods. About noon Mrs. Tinker was said to have left a party of friends in the living room and gone to her bedroom, where she shot herself with a small revolver. She died soon afterward.

The funeral will be held here tomorrow, and it has been decided that an inquest is not necessary.

effect a total saving to the estate of $17,000.

To sum it up this man under 40 years, with a $100,000 net income and a maximum surtax rate of not more than 15 per cent, by setting aside one-fifth of his estate in trust has accomplished this much for his heirs:

The estate saves $17,000 in death taxes and costs; the $100,000 net estate will at once grow through insurance policies, into an estate of $200,000, and in addition enough has been saved in income taxes each year to pay for $20,000 more insurance for the beneficiaries.

Moderate Income Seek Shelter. It's not only the higher bracket incomes that are seeking shelter in trust arrangements, although the greater the income and the higher the surtax, the larger the saving. Much business is going to the trust department of banks and to trust companies from persons in the medium brackets.

This seems to raise the question of whether a slash in surtax rates, particularly in the higher brackets, will tend to halt the tendency towards trust holdings.

(Other methods of escaping high surtax will be dealt with in the next article.)

EARLY ACTION ON CHILD LABOR ACT, PLAN OF SENATOR

McCormick Tells Gompers
Outlook Is Bright.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26.—(Special.)—Expressing the hope that a bill may be had from the senate committee on the proposed child labor constitutional amendment early next year, Senator McCormick (Rep., Ill.) has written to the National Federation of Labor Unions, expressing hope for early action.

The proposed amendment introduced by a group of sixteen national federations brought together by the National Federation of Labor Unions for that purpose.

Letter to Labor Leader.
"As you know," said Senator McCormick in his letter to President Gompers, "I have introduced the text of the child labor amendment drafted by the distinguished lawyers whom we called to consult and unanimously approved by the committee of the national child labor conference which was convened."

"The facts regarding the industrial situation of American children are presented to the judiciary committee of the senate in the last session. In my opinion, there is no occasion for additional hearings as to the facts, although I shall ask Messrs. Gompers and the members of the judiciary committee to make available to the senate, proving the constant increase of child labor in industry."

In Session for Action.
"We shall ask our legal advisers in the senate and elsewhere to hold themselves in readiness to explain to the judiciary committee the reason for our continued opposition to the terms of the child labor amendment which I introduced in that reported to the senate at the last session. I hope that arguments and the facts of the amendment will be so unduly delayed."

"All of us who are opposed to the child labor exploitation of American children are indebted to you and to the members of your committee who have so promptly at your call, and who so generously and sympathetically have aided with us of the senate. Let us count on you upon the energy and tact with which you yourself have."

DEVER TO SEEK COUNCIL O. K. ON LIBRARY BOARD

Mayor Dever will seek affirmative approval this afternoon for his reappointment to the public library board. Four appointments have been decided upon, and it was learned yesterday, fifth member, to replace Charles J. Dever, former proprietor of North Side Barber shop, and now charged with embezzlement charges, may be named at the last moment today.

The fifth member, expert brewer-chamber and a former member of the board, is one of the mayor's selections, as is Murray G. C. H. Pyffe, former counsel of the board of election commissioners. The other appointees are Andrew J. Kolar Jr., cashier of the Federal State bank, and Michael J. Russell, 18 West Taylor street, an underwriter.

Mayor Dever would not disclose when he was considering as Appel's successor, but admitted that his adviser had urged him to accept the offer's flight from justice as a resignation from the library board. Appel is the father of Lila Lee, actress, motion picture actress.

Appel, the outgoing member of the board are Lawrence Cuneo, former water street merchant and member of the State's Attorney Robert C. Crane; Charles W. Schick, J. C. Schick, and Adam C. Odenbach.

PERHAPS KORETZ SELLS OIL TO RUM SKIPPERS

Officials Hear He's with Fleet.

Telegrams were sent to New York last night by John Shabert and Stanley Karkowski, assistant state attorneys, asking the eastern officials to search every yacht, especially rum runners, off New York for Leo Koretz, fugitive $5,000,000 oil swindler. It was not said whether he is suspected of selling Bayano oil to the rum ship-pers.

The two officials refused to comment on the information that caused the sending of the telegrams, but they admitted that clues had come to them within the last twenty-four hours.

"Have information," said a telegram to New York, "that Leo Koretz, wanted here in $10,000,000 oil swindle, still hiding in or near New York. Information is that he obtained yacht, but lacking passport, still is waiting at the twelve mile limit. Believe that with his money he has made arrangements for protection with rum runners plying eastern coast. Please have harbor master carefully search all suspicious yachts with his apprehension in view."

This telegram was believed to set at rest rumors that Koretz had reached southern California and was hiding there in daily danger of arrest.

RUSH MEASURE TO SAVE NATION'S VANISHING WOODS

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—(Special.)—Legislation to solve the problem of America's vanishing forests will be pushed through the senate soon under the plan of Senator McNary (Rep., Ore.), chairman of the select committee on reforestation.

For nearly a year the committee, consisting of Senator McNary, Senator Couzens (Rep., Mich.), Senator Moses (Rep., N. H.), Senator Fletcher (Dem., Fla.), and Senator Harrison (Dem., Miss.), has been traveling all over the country studying the forestry and lumber question. They are now writing their report and expect to present it Jan. 5.

A bill proposing to enact the committee's principal recommendations into law already has been drafted and Senator McNary will seek to have it made the senate's unfinished business. In general the measure proposes to follow the lines of the formula, "Keep the trees out and the axe down," as the best principle of forest protection and reforestation. The bill carries appropriations aggregating about $2,700,000 federal aid to the states.

BASEBALL'S TOUR OF EUROPE GETS O. K. OF HEYDLER

New York, Dec. 26.—(Special.)—John McGraw's suggestion that two big league ball teams from the United States tour Europe next autumn met with the approval of John A. Heydler, president of the National league, today.

The league executive seconds the McGraw motion with only one reservation—that the teams be composed of representative players of high character, the kind of men who are as good for the world as for the game. Heydler, however, the American athletes will make up the most important aspect of the question.

President Heydler also seconded the proposal of President Charles A. Stoneham of the Giants that the tour be all-star, selected not from one club in each league, but from the eight clubs of each circuit.

Need Inter-League Rivalry
"The inter-league rivalry appeals strongly to me," Mr. Heydler said. "This would be the competition of interest without which the trip would not be so successful. Let's have a good team from the National and an equally good one from the American and then let them go it."

"It would be a novelty for baseball and don't overlook the fact that it would arouse as much interest in the United States as in Europe. Such a trip with leading players on each side would keep the fan of this country highly interested, and the reports that would be carried back would do much to focus attention on baseball on both sides of the Atlantic."

"I think this would be better than two teams, such as the Giants and White Sox, making the trip. If one of the pair finished low in the standing, it would hurt the venture."

No Pay for Players
"The presence of Ruth and Frisch and other internationally known stars would be a tremendous help in this land and France, where they have read of these men, especially Ruth."

"In this, however, I am not thinking of the rate receipts. This would be strictly a sporting proposition, as much so as if it were two amateur teams involved. Only these players should be taken on the tour, and for other reasons than these of money. I would be opposed to the players figuring in the receipts. It should be a touring party, but a friendly visit of the athletes of one country to another country."

Mr. Heydler, as a member of the advisory council, will vote on the matter with Committee K. M. Leach and President Ben Johnson of the American league. A unanimous vote is required. Besides this, the owner of each club from which a player is selected will have to give his O. K.

ITALIAN CHAMP MEETS TUNNEY IN U. S. DEBUT
New York, Dec. 26.—Umbino Spalla, Italian holder of the European heavyweight championship, will make his American debut in a fifteen round match with Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight titleholder, at Madison Square Garden, New York, on Saturday, Jan. 1.

Tunney's title will not be at stake, as Spalla cannot make 175 pounds, but the match is expected to attract unusual interest.

SPALLA IN A JAM
BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 26.—A dispatch from New York announcing that Gene Tunney and Umbino Spalla had been matched to fight in New York on Feb. 1 arrived simultaneously with an announcement by Luis Angel Spalla, father of the Italian fighter, that he and Spalla would fight fifteen rounds in Buenos Aires in February under an agreement drawn up by Ferdinand Landkammer, who resides here. Landkammer said he had received a dispatch from Spalla promising that the Italian fighter would come here at the beginning of February.

MRS. HORPE SUES FOR CUSTODY OF SON AND GETS HIM
New York, Dec. 26.—Mrs. William Horpe, wife of the world champion 162 pound champion, today began and a few hours later dropped out against her husband's claim for custody of her 4 year old son, William Horpe Jr. She abandoned the action after Horpe returned the boy to Mrs. Horpe, her attorneys said.

According to attorneys for Mrs. Horpe, the one star and his wife became estranged in June, 1932, but resumed relations until Nov. 26 of this year, when Horpe left his wife and child. Mrs. Horpe returned to her mother three days later, but Willie Jr. remained with his father.

SWIFT'S NO. 1 GO INTO PIN LEAD
Topping 2,715 maples, Swift & Co. No. 1 five man team won the opening round in the Central Manufacturers' district bowling tournament at Peterson's alleys last night.

Representatives of the Western Sheds and Cloth company landed second with 2,712 pins, followed by Pullman company quintet, which upset 2,717 maples. The scores of the first nine of the forty-five teams follow:

Ernest Padgett, playing at shortstop for Boston, Oct. 6, executed an unassisted triple play against Philadelphia. Only once before had the feat been accomplished in the National league, Paul Hines, Providence outfielder, making the play on May 5, 1878.

Louis Duncan, Cincinnati, is the leading outfielder with a percentage of .993. Duncan's fielding percentage of .993 created a new National league record for outfielders. The former record was held jointly by John Wagner, Pittsburgh, and Frank Schulte, Chicago, made in 1922 and 1923, respectively.

Max Carey, Pittsburgh, who in 1922 set the record for most putouts and greatest number of total chances, broke both these records in 1923. He made 450 putouts, one more than his 1922 mark, and accepted 473 chances of the 497 offered, breaking his previous record by seven.

WOODS AND WATERS

IS THE ONE BUCK LAW A WISE PROVISION?

W HEN TALKED with many deer hunters about the one buck law, to get their reaction on this regulation and as a rule most of them endorse it. Many of the states that have enacted this kind of a law find that it is working out pretty well, according to reports.

One of the arguments for the one buck law is that it eliminates the killing of does and also acts as protection to the sportsman himself. If a hunter makes sure that the deer he is about to shoot has a head of antlers with one or more prongs he most certainly is not going to kill an unproven fellow hunter in mistake for game, say the backers of this law.

Now R. O. Easley of Benton Harbor, Mich., steps up with a regular broadside against the one buck law and shoots both barrels with a bang. He says that it falls miserably in the accomplishment of the result intended.

This Changing World

Yes, there was a time when The Tribune was third in city and suburban circulation.

There was a time when The Tribune could offer to advertisers only quality and responsiveness—not quantity of circulation.

But that time is gone.

Considering local circulation only—The Tribune on week days sells 50,000 more copies than any afternoon paper and 20,000 more than the other Sunday paper. As to The Sunday Tribune—its local circulation exceeds that of the Sunday Herald & Examiner by 125,000 and of the Daily News by 175,000.

In local circulation as well as in total circulation The Tribune is supreme. It leads in both divisions on week days, as well as on Sundays.

In addition to reaching more readers, The Tribune reaches a better class of readers. Furthermore, it has built up in those readers an appreciation of advertising and a confident responsiveness to copy acceptable to The Tribune.

For the merchant or manufacturer who believes that business is as good as he makes it, here is a weapon at once powerful and economical—a vast machine geared for the profitable building of sales.

Shortly after my marriage, I was trying the contents of my cedar to a number of girl friends. Each was met with much praise and proud and happy.

On picking up the next thing I announced, "This is my box of meaning place cards, favors, I imagine the color of my face. I lifted the cover and my eyes a beautiful hand embroidered had received at a shower from the girls present.

I turned to offer an apology, but I met her cold icy stare, the words.

House Body Session Breaks Up in Anger.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Copyright, 1923, By The Chicago Tribune.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—The Chicago Tribune's exclusive announcement today of the text of important sections of the Mellon tax reduction bill caused the meeting of the committee of the house ways and means committee to break up in a rowdy afternoon with consideration of the measure postponed until the full committee meets on Jan. 3.

Notwithstanding the ruction and the fact, secrecy clamped on the text of the bill, which state members of the committee failed to loosen today, The Tribune's correspondent is enabled to publish in this issue of the new important provisions of the new program as it affects the smaller taxpayer.

This includes the application of the proposed reduced normal tax and surtax rates to income and the 25 per cent reduction of taxes on wages, salaries, and professional fees.

Mr. P. Holds on to "Secret"
At the outset of the committee meeting today Representative Garner (Dem., Tex.) called attention to publication of important parts of the text and demanded that in view of this disclosure the committee make the bill public at once. The Republican members took sharp issue with Mr. Garner and finally refused to agree to any relaxation of the injunction of secrecy.

Mr. Garner thereupon waxed highly indignant, denouncing the attitude of the committee as an "outrage" and "a disgrace to the body." He declared that the alteration the subcommittee proposed, with a general agreement to accept no further consideration of the bill until the full committee meets.

The text of the section proposing a reduction of 25 per cent on wages, salaries, and other "earned income," reveals the exact manner in which the treasury plans to limit this reference.

May Broaden Scope.
The small farmer and the small shopkeeper, who do not work on a large basis, will not receive any benefit from the section in it stands. An effort will be made, it is expected, to broaden its scope so as to take care of the farmer. Farmers or storekeepers operating on a large scale and credit themselves with salaries for their personal services will be able to obtain the benefit of the provision.

Restrictions included in the earned income section are designed to prevent a person receiving compensation from a corporation from including as part of his salary a distribution of dividends or profits.

The earned income section is entirely new, inasmuch as nothing of the kind is contained in the present act. Under the Mellon plan it is proposed to give the special reduction of 25 per cent on earned income in addition to the reduction proposed in all normal tax rates and surtaxes.

New Earned Income Section.
The entirely new section relating to earned income follows:
"Section 209 (A). For the purposes of this section:
"1. The term 'earned income' means wages, salaries, and professional fees, but does not include that part of the compensation derived by the taxpayer for personal services rendered by him to a corporation which represents a distribution of earnings or profits other than a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services rendered.
"2. The term 'earned income' includes such deductions as are provided by section 214 for the purpose of ascertaining net income, and are proportionable to or chargeable against earned income.
"3. The term 'earned net income' means the excess of the amount of earned income over the sum of the deductions allowed by section 214. In the case of an individual who is taxed under the provisions of section 215 or 216 the tax shall, in addition to the credits provided in section 214, be credited with 25 per centum of the amount which bears the same relation to the total amount of the tax as the amount of the earned net income bears to the total amount of the net income, but in no case shall the credit exceed under this subdivision the maximum of the amount of the tax.
"4. In the case of an individual who is taxed under the provisions of section 215 the tax shall, in addition to the credits provided in section 214, be credited with 25 per centum of the amount which bears the same relation to the amount of tax on the ordinary income as the amount of the earned net income bears to the total amount of the net income, but in no case shall the credit exceed under this subdivision the maximum of the amount of the tax."
